Intrigue of the Past Teacher Workshop

11:30-2:30PM      See the North Carolina Archaeology Day web page for information about this free workshop.

North Carolina Archaeology Day is a collaborative effort by the North Carolina Archaeological Society, the Research Laboratories of Archaeology at UNC-Chapel Hill, and the Society of Anthropology Students at UNC-Chapel Hill. It is supported in part by a Public Outreach Grant from the Southeastern Archaeological Conference.

Directions to the Research Laboratories of Archaeology

The Research Laboratories of Archaeology is located in Alumni Building on UNC's North Campus, just off East Franklin Street between Morehead Planetarium and the Old Well. You can find a map showing the location of the Research Laboratories of Archaeology and free parking lots at the North Carolina Archaeology Day web page. Public parking is also available in the Morehead Planetarium Lot, along East Franklin Street, and in the Downtown Chapel Hill Parking Deck (accessed from Rosemary Street one block north of East Franklin Street).

From Raleigh and eastern North Carolina: Take I-40 West to Exit 270 (HWY 15-501). Take a left off of the exit to get onto 15-501 going towards Chapel Hill. After 1.5 miles, the road forks. Stay to the right and get on Franklin Street when it splits off. The Morehead Planetarium Lot will be on your left in about 2.5 miles.

From Burlington, Greensboro, and western North Carolina: Take I-40 East (watch for the separation of I-85 and I-40 just east of Efland) to exit 266 – Highway 86. Turn right. Highway 86 becomes Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd (Historic Airport Rd.). Stay on Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd. 4.1 miles to the Franklin Street traffic light. Turn left. The Morehead Planetarium Lot is on the right about a half-mile after turning on Franklin Street.

From Durham and areas northeast of Durham: Take I-85 South to 15-501 South. Continue 1.6 miles past the I-40 interchange and take the Franklin Street exit, which veers off to the right. The Morehead Planetarium Lot will be on your left in about 2.5 miles.

Call for Volunteers!

We're still looking for volunteers to help make North Carolina Archaeology Day on October 17 a success. There are a variety of ways to help before, during, and after the event. Among other things, we need help

- promoting the event
- setting up on Friday evening and Saturday morning
- assisting with hands-on activities
- greeting visitors and handing out programs at the information table
- monitoring the reserved parking lot
- cleaning up after the event

Volunteers can work as little or as much as they'd like, and there will be a break area with refreshments. If you would like to volunteer to help with the event, please contact Theresa McReynolds (temcre@email.unc.edu; 919-302-1748). Thank you!
